

Trained by the people that are winning the awards!

Our trainers are running accounts... and they're running them very well!

They're in the platforms daily and have relevant experiences and up-to-date knowledge to share.

This is Kit.

With a background in data-driven design, Kit specialises in experiment conception and construction. He's our resident expert on all things Optimizely.

Typical Training Content

Learn the best practices of website testing and personalisation using Optimizely Web. This session will run through the core concepts and workflows for you to be able to use the tool with confidence. We will focus on configuration of pages, events, tags and audiences, using the visual editor, previewing and reporting.
